

Irving Cobb's concept of Maine Lakes.

CENTENARY

1872 —

“Mudwagons” and “barges”
 Trollies and teams
 Took folks to lakesides
 To spin their dreams.

Clear, crystal waters
 To swim, fish, or drink;
 Skirts raised to ankles
 To wade in the brink.

Picnics along shore,
 Children at play,
 Groupings of elders
 To pass time of day.

1972 —

Cars whizz by a glimpse of blue.
 Someone asks,
 “Was that a lake?
 or a blanket hung on a line?
 How far to the next hotdog stand?”

CHAPTER X INDEX OF MAINE LAKES by Counties

The use of (P) indicates frequent use of the word pond. A few names are of lakes no longer in existence but are included as an aid to researchers. A few lakes are included without adequate guidance as to exact location other than county.
